Conflict Studies and Management Programme at the Willy Brandt School of Public Policy in Erfurt Research Fellowships and Scholarships for Doctoral and Master's Students

The 'Conflict Studies and Management Programme' (CSMP) is a new programme implemented by the 'Willy Brandt School of Public Policy' in Erfurt (Brandt School) and the 'German Academic Exchange Service' (DAAD). It is addressed to Master's students, doctoral students and senior researchers with an interest in conflict management in research and practise.

The Willy Brandt School of Public Policy at the University of Erfurt is one of the leading public policy schools in Germany. Since 2002 the School's Master's programme is committed to training talented students for management and leadership positions mainly in the public sector.

In 2010 the Brandt School launched a new research programme in conflict studies and conflict management focusing on (policy) issues relevant to regions of conflict. In winter semester 2010 fellows will start their research projects at the Brandt School and participate in developing the programme. Also in winter semester 2010 the first Master and doctoral students will enrol. The CSMP aims at preparing students who want to pursue a career in relevant organisations and seeks to produce applicable knowledge in the area of conflict studies.

This special programme is intended for highly-qualified foreign Master's and doctoral students as well as senior scientists. The CSMP fellowships offer outstanding scientists and researchers the opportunity to conduct research with a focus on application at the Willy Brandt School of Public Policy in Erfurt, Germany. The fellows will have a teaching commitment at the Brandt School of generally 2 hours per week. Furthermore, the CSMP scholarships offer excellent students the opportunity to obtain a Master's degree or a doctorate within a specialised structured research and teaching programme.

CSMP Fellowships and scholarships are defined and awarded on a yearly basis. Each year, the fellowship announcement will indicate the specific qualification requirements and regional focus. The current offers are published under 'CSMP - Current Offers':
